

DEVELOP YOUR NEXT LEADER WITH SEEING THINGS WHOLE

The Reell Office of Seeing Things Whole cultivates whole leaders to positively impact the common good within their organization.

Whole leaders reflect deeply on their own values and strengths as a means to take initiative and empower others. They thoroughly consider how their actions create impact and take a holistic view when making critical decisions.

Invest in the leadership development of your employees or team to meet the demands of leaders and managers in the workforce. Through Seeing Things Whole, you up-skill your current employees to meet the needs of the organization while building trust and confidence from within your organization, which avoids timely and costly hiring processes.

IS THERE SOMEONE YOU WOULD LIKE TO INVEST IN?

Our Community Practice Cohort is designed to empower leaders by providing a collaborative space to enhance the leadership process and practice so your employee can gain insights around real-life leadership challenges and opportunities.

The Community Practice Cohort is accepting eight members from September 2024–June 2025 to embark on a 10-month collaborative journey toward effective leadership. Participants will gain practical skills and knowledge on leadership topics—like articulating a problem, communication, team collaboration, decision making—as well as personalized roundtables to focus on issues and skills directly related to your organization.

WHAT IS THE COST TO BUILD A LEADER ON YOUR TEAM?

Seeing Things Whole has two payment models for organizations looking to build their leaders.

- $2400 per person
- $3000 for two individuals from the same organization
